JAILS OF MOSCOW FILLED TO ROOF WITH PRISONERS

(By Associated Press.)
MOSCOW, Jan. 17.—Latvian hostages returning home from Moscow, state that all the Moscow jails are over-crowded with prisoners, the number of prisoners being more than 100,000, one-fifth of all the inhabitants of Moscow.

All monasteries in the city have been turned into jails and even the upper story of a large rubber works has been fitted up so as to accommodate 20,000 prisoners.

The conditions in the jails were said to be indescribable. One of the hostages, referring to the conditions during June and July, said: "We are living under the shadow of death. Every night, 60 or 80 prisoners were taken from the jail for execution."

Owing to the constant feeling of the nearness of death, many of the prisoners became insane and many fell ill from underfeeding, the hostages added.

Last month the Latvian prisoners declared a hunger strike as a protest against their imprisonment, which almost amounted to a breach of the peace treaty between Latvia and Russia. They were freed at the request of the Latvian ambassador.

MILLION WOMEN WANT TO MARRY

(By Associated Press.)

LONDON, Jan. 17.—"Jackless Jills" are emigrating in considerable numbers from England in the hope of finding suitable "Jill-less Jacks" for husbands in the United States, according to Norah March, bachelor of science. Her comments on England's "marriageable women who may never marry" before the National Birth Rate commission some time ago were widely discussed in the British press.

Government figures show there is a surplus of a million women in England whose only hope of marriage depends on their migrating to some part of the world where there is a more even distribution of the sexes. According to Miss March, they are doing it. She says she is receiving letters from America that are "evidence of the loneliness of some men's lives."

"Women are enterprising today," she added. "Many are emigrating who a few years ago would have feared to take the great adventure."

WELL KNOWN MINER DIES EARLY TODAY

W. H. McLean, aged 32 years, died at 12:30 o'clock this morning at the Mine Operators' hospital of pneumonia after an illness of several days. For the past several months deceased had been employed at the Cash Bay mine in this city, coming here from Butte, Montana, where he leaves a father, and a wife, a wife whom he divorced four years ago, a daughter 6 years of age, in Tonopah, and has been making her home with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cloke.

Word was received from the father last evening of the condition of his son, but no word was forthcoming today from the north after the authorities had notified the relatives of the death. The body is now at the undertaking parlors of Wonnacott & Cavanaugh, awaiting word as to the disposition of the remains.

Deceased had been living in one of the houses owned by Albert Kelly.

DAHLQUIST CASE IS BEFORE DIST. COURT

The case of Hilma Dahlquist vs. Nevada Industrial commission was called in the district court this morning. Plaintiff alleges that the commission refuses to pay the widow's compensation in the death of her husband who died here some time ago. The commission contends that the plaintiff married the deceased on his deathbed the day before he passed away. Hilma Dahlquist states that the allowance should be paid, as she was the common law wife of the deceased.

ANNUAL MEETING OF BASEBALL MAGNETS IN SESSION TODAY

(By Associated Press.)

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Jan. 17.—The annual meeting of the National Baseball federation, governing body of "sandlot" baseball, opens here tomorrow. Several questions of importance touching on the semi-pro and amateur baseball situations throughout the country will come up. Many delegates are said to favor a change in the method of playing the annual series of games in a district and advise paying more attention to the development of city associations than to inter-city contests. It is proposed to make such city associations strong enough financially and in baseball ability to put into inter-city and national contests in 1922.

AMUSEMENTS

ANNETTE KELLERMANN AT BUTLER THEATRE TODAY

(By Associated Press.)

A 150-foot dive from the mast of a pitching schooner. A thrilling battle between a young society man and a muthous crew on a tramp schooner. These are just a few of the tense moments in "What Women Love," Annette Kellermann's modern comedy drama which will be the headline attraction at the Butler today as Sol Lesser's big production with the diving Venus in the starring role.

As Annabel Cotton, the star depicts the role of an athletic girl whose clothes shock her crusading father. She is sought by two suitors, vastly different in style, and marries the one that she herself least expected to marry.

Annette Kellermann, internationally famous as a swimmer, known to millions of playgoers for her work in vaudeville and on the screen, is considered to be at her best in this modern comedy drama, in which there is something doing every minute. It is a first National attraction.

Tommy, another wonderful film, starring Norma Talmadge in "The Woman Giver."

SHOES COST $64 A PAIR IN ITALY

(By Associated Press.)

ROME, Italy, Jan. 17.—The Italian middle classes whose incomes remain substantially what they were before the war are angrily resisting what they denounce as the "outrageous prices for necessities exacted by profiteers." The scenes of indignation which occur in some of the stores of Rome show the exasperation of the consumers.

One man who was asked the equivalent of $65 for a pair of shoes told the shopkeeper: "Burglars who enter your house and rob are not the only hold-up men in this town. You come in the same category."

Another man, when asked the equivalent of $30 for a hat, told the shopkeeper that he was the manufacturer of the hat and had sold it to the dealer for $10. He called the retailer "a robber."

Lately the shopkeepers have been compelled to mark the prices in plain figures on every article in the shop windows in the vain hope that craftsmen would be ashamed to ask exorbitant prices; the only effect, however, has been to level prices around instead of down.

PASSES UP OFFICIALS FOR ATHLETIC DANE

(By Associated Press.)

COPENHAGEN, Jan. 17.—King Christian of Denmark had just alighted from the train on his recent visit to this city and, standing on the station platform at the Gare du Nord, had listened to the words of welcome spoken by Premier Loegey, when suddenly he walked briskly away from the officials to a blonde muscular giant who towered head and shoulders above the rest of the Danish colony.

"How are you, professor?" inquired the king, shaking the hand of the athletic-looking Dane.

"Glad to see Your Majesty, only because I wait here of present. I am thinking of going to America."

BUY NOW

We had a customer in Goldfield who made over Fifty Thousand Dollars in less than three months. He bought stocks at a cent and sold the accumulations all the way from 200 to 700 per share. He bought some Tonopah Divides at $4.40 per share. We do not know what he sold it for, but he must have got a good price.

The conditions everywhere indicate a big mining market within the next three months. We believe that the penny Divides will prove a bonanza to anyone who takes them on now. We believe that Rosetta will return a profit of 1000 per cent or more in sixty days. That are working now in a section directly under the portion of the surface where values around $2000 per ton are not uncommon.

Buy penny Divides. The gamble is small, the chances are big.
